David Jones
1825 – 1861

David Jones oedd mab ieuengaf Thomas a Catherine Jones, Carreg y Dwn, Llangernyw. Ffermio oedd ei dad. Roedd ei fam Catherine neu Cadws fel y'i gelwir hi yn ddynes fawr gyhyrog, hardd ei phryd a'i gwedd, a'i gwallt yn ddu fel y frân. Roedd hi'n adnabyddus i gylch eang fel bydwraig ac roedd galw mawr am ei gwasanaeth. Rydym yn deall ei bod yn gantores dda, yn codi canu yng nghapel Bethabara ac ar ôl iddi gael ei bedyddio yn yr afon daeth môr o gân oherwydd canodd Catrin nes gwefreiddio pawb yn y gwasanaeth

Yn ôl cyfrifiad 1841 roeddynt yn byw yn Pentrefelin. Y plant eraill oedd Margaret, Nathaniel, William a Thomas. Priododd Margaret gyda David Vaughan a chawsant 2 o blant ond bu hi farw'n ifanc. Priododd Nathaniel gydag Elizabeth a buont yn byw yn "College". Ffermio oedd William a'i deulu yn Pentre ac roedd Thomas yn byw gyda hwy yn 1851. Crydd oedd galwedigaeth Thomas.

Priododd David Jones gyda Margaret Evans o Bandy Tudur a chawsant 8 o blant. Yn nhu ôl un o'i lyfrau yn y Cwm cawn ei achau fel hyn :

David Jones was the youngest son of Thomas and Catherine Jones, Carreg y Dwn. His father was a farmer. His mother was Catherine Jones or Cadws as she was known. She was a very strong beautiful woman with black hair. She was also known locally as a midwife and there was a great demand for her services. She was also a very well known singer especially in the Bethabara chapel. After she was babtized and rose from the water she started singing and praised the Lord.

In the 1841 census they were living in Pentrefelin with their children Margaret, Nathaniel, William, Thomas and David. Margaret married David Vaughan with whom she had 2 sons but she died very young. Nathaniel married Elizabeth and they lived at College but did not have any children. William and his family farmed at Pentrefelin and in the 1851 census Thomas his brother also lived with them.

David married Margaret and they had 8 children. In the back of one of the ledger's in the Syr Henry Jones Museum we have the family pedigree as follows :
